OUR PROMISE, OUR FUTURE
The Alliance Foundation builds community support to lift up Alliance scholars and schools. We raise awareness and resources, advocate, and build partnerships for Alliance while sharing best practices with educators, school systems and policy-makers to shine a bright light on what is possible for all public schools.
DEAR FRIENDS,

What are the makings of an exceptional education for all?

Alliance College-Ready Public Schools has promised to answer this question for nearly two decades since our first school opened in the heart of South Los Angeles.

Naysayers at the time insisted educational excellence for all wasn’t possible – that children from marginalized neighborhoods could not be expected to achieve in the same way children from more privileged communities could. Doubters believed our city’s high school graduation rate – an appalling 49% – was something we had to accept.

For seven years, I have proudly served at the helm of this incredible public charter schools network, which has shattered that myth and proven all children can succeed when supported. I am surrounded by passionate and committed educators, families, and supporters like you, who refuse to accept inequality and injustice in public education.

Even amid unimaginable recent challenges, the Alliance community has honored this legacy – showing up, time and again, to deliver on our promise. Because of this, we can again celebrate that 95% of Alliance’s senior Class of 2021 graduated, with 90% accepted to college.

This period has caused me to reflect deeply on Alliance’s founding promise and the brilliant future ahead. This will be my last year as CEO. I see an important, strategic moment on the horizon for Alliance to amplify racial and educational justice and create stronger connections to our scholars’ experiences and identities.

I am full of pride, gratitude, hope, and resolve knowing my time will sunset with some of the most brilliant, dedicated education leaders that I have ever met. It has been the honor of a lifetime to work alongside them in service to our scholars.

Thank you for making my time here wonderful. I look forward to seeing the ways your support lifts our scholars and schools to even greater heights.

With heartfelt appreciation,

Dan Katzir
Chief Executive Officer
Alliance College-Ready Public Schools

When we opened our first Alliance school in 2004, we made a promise to students, families, and the larger community: to provide a great, high-quality public education to Los Angeles children who had been failed by traditional schools. We knew then, and we know now, that promise is inextricably tied to our shared future.

This past year, for the first time in Alliance’s history, our promise was tested in ways we could never have imagined. Our scholars’ most basic needs – health, safety, and stability – were in peril like never before. The Alliance community banded together to provide solace and steadiness in the turmoil, staying connected in new and innovative ways and keeping scholars supported and growing. Our scholars kept showing up, even virtually, maintaining a 95% attendance rate.

With your support, the dream of a college-going future for all has remained within reach. Our schools were again recognized as among the best in the nation by the California and U.S. Departments of Education, and by U.S. News and World Report. Through the darkest days of the last 18 months, you have helped light up our community - and our shared future looks immensely bright.

Alliance educators and staff are now back on campus, energized, and joyfully welcoming scholars back to class. They are rolling up their sleeves and doing all it takes to serve our scholars – tending to mind, body, and spirit. We are stronger and wiser for all that we have learned together, and committed as ever to preparing Alliance scholars for success in college and in leading our communities.

Thank you for your continued partnership. Together, we continue to uphold our promise. Together, we continue to pave the way toward our future – a great future for our scholars and for Los Angeles.

With gratitude,

Catherine Suitor
Executive Director
Alliance College-Ready Public Schools Foundation

Innovation has always been part of Alliance’s DNA. Our educators have met the extraordinary challenges of this past year to keep our scholars on the path to college. Our schools became hubs of creativity and ingenuity in the face of an ever changing environment, including:

SUPPORTING THE WHOLE CHILD

Staying connected through athletics using apps like Nike Run Club

Online yoga and meditation sessions to help them focus and feel at ease

Virtual music clubs and choirs continued to harmonize and perform virtually

Outdoor art classes to nurture creativity and expression
When Alliance welcomed scholars back to school campuses in August for the 2021-2022 school year, staff, scholars, and families knew they would be returning to physically and psychologically safe environments. We have been especially intentional about tending to the mind, body, and heart of our entire Alliance community.

When Alliance was founded to address inequities in public education, we intentionally opened in communities of color where traditional schools had failed families for decades. In 2018, we launched our first Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) initiative and we recently developed a Roadmap to guide us toward becoming an anti-racist, pro-Black network of schools:

- Develop a network vision and strategy to become more diverse, equitable, and inclusive
- Support Alliance leaders to advance racial justice work with their teams
- Dismantle inequitable behaviors, practices, and systems across Alliance

COMMITMENT TO EQUITY

OUR ROOTS REAFFIRMED

- The number of Alliance teachers who identify as educators of color: 74%
- The number of Alliance administrators who identify as educators of color: 67%
- Alliance schools recognized by The College Board for exceptional Female Diversity in AP Computer Science: 3
OUR PARENT & COMMUNITY ADVOCATES

Since our founding, lifting up the voices of our families to support and advocate for their children has remained a core principal at Alliance. Our schools offer multiple opportunities to engage our families as leaders in their schools and communities, including:

- Parent Ambassador Leadership program
- Parent Engagement Specialists in every school
- Parent, staff, and scholar representation on School Site Advisory Councils and other decision making bodies
- Partnerships with community organizations to advocate for our scholars and families
- Civic engagement clubs to build scholar leadership in their communities, including Junior State of America, Black Student Unions, and Gay-Straight Alliance

OUR PARTNER: KIRKLAND & ELLIS

We are honored to partner with Kirkland & Ellis LLP through the firm’s five-year investment in our racial and educational justice initiatives. In addition to financial support, Kirkland & Ellis has provided organizational leadership, pro bono legal support, and volunteers to support Alliance scholars and schools.

“Ensuring all children have access to an exceptional education should be one of the highest priorities of our society.”

— Ellisen Shelton Turner P.C.
Partner and Co-chair of Diversity & Inclusion Committee
OUR CHAMPIONS

- Our Young Professionals Board raised and distributed over $370,000 in college scholarships to Alliance graduates from the Class of 2021.

- Over 300 members of the Alliance community came together for a record-breaking Heroes Among Us celebration, raising $1.35 million for Alliance.

- Two anonymous donors created a Meeting the Moment match that raised more than $1.5 million in emergency funding at the onset of the pandemic.

- LA Tech Cares, founded by Kwanza Jones, Brett Brewer, and Brian Lee provided WiFi hotspots to 800 Alliance scholars.

“I can’t think of anything more important or more motivating than supporting Alliance scholars, especially this year.”
